

Investment opportunity: Soil in Madrid.

Location: Madrid, Moncloa-Aravaca District.

Gross area: 7.714 m².

Observations: According to the official alignment, a street is projected that will divide the plot into two parts, so the land of the street must be transferred to the City Council and payment of the urbanization costs must be transferred to it.

The plot will be divided into two parts:

One of them will be governed by its zonal norm that establishes the possibility of building single-family homes with a minimum plot area of 2,500 m², although exceptional situations could exist. There would be an approximate buildable area of 1,136.1 m².

The other plot falls within a Planning Area that is currently under development. The influence of a road on one side of this plot makes it necessary to set back, as well as to respect some of the trees that have grown on it. There would be an approximate buildable area of 1,705 m².
